What's New?

The daycare project has had some twists and turns, but I just helped put a hole in the wall to officially start the re-model project! Schelling Construction will be coordinating the project w/an end date of 5/1/27, although we are hopeful it will be completed long before then..
Good news I would like to share is that we had our annual DIAL inspection in August and received a defieciency free survey!!
SO, so, so proud of my team!
